TERMS OF THE DAILY DEMOCRAT TO THE COUNTRY.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED. We desi-e to procure the services of a local agent our behalf? Believing that the circulation of the Democrat may be materially extended, we make this appeal to our friends in its behalf. We had almost forgot to notice the Secesh gathering at Frankfort. Indeed, they were so quiet and private that the rest of man-kind didn't know what they had done until ey published only what they chose to see the What they said in that private room, out from the world, we don't know. It et conclave that the object at heart ade out. In their published plat e is a great deal against Lincoln e-true as preaching. They might re, perhaps, for the material is undant. But what will they do about

That is not so clear. They are for peace and so is everybody else; but they don't state nditions, and they are everything. We are ready to make peace any day that Davis & Co. will say that they give up their issue of dividing this country. We do not wish to let them know that we give it up; that they may have their way and take what they want.

This is just what this State will infer is the object of these men. They are all original cesh, so far as is known. Their counsels at the start would have sent Kentucky into the Southern Confederacy, and this State would have been the bloody theater of the war; and their counsels now would lead to the same result. If they had told you that they would not submit to either extreme, they might have talked about peace and not have been misunderstood. Indeed, they are not misunderstood. Their antecedents show too well what

They pretend to be Democrats; assume the alded in breaking up the Democratic partydeserted these Northern Democrats.

Now, we defend these Northern Democrats. They were the party. They were right, and we that she had instructed her Representatives had the honor of supporting them throughout. They have been right ever since, and are right and a series of other as amusingly false. now. We warn them not to be misled by a name. The Union men of this State every where denounce the criminal acts of Lincoln and his party; but they will not compromise

The Central Committee of this body call a Convention of the Democratic party. The names on that Committee show what the result is to be, if they can get control of this Commonwealth. These men will separate forever from their dear friends, the Northern Democracy, and join the rebellion.

All they say against the Administration can be used by them. This Administration and its party have aided the rebellion more of the fleet before Charleston.

The country has wasted millions for a pavy, and yet for ten or twelve months we have heard of nothing done. A rebel ship preys upon our commerce in the regular track of trade for nonths, and we only hear that vessels have been sent after it. Our powerful navy does nothing. Our iron-clads seem to us as use less for naval purposes as so much old iron. We have been more busy in making them impregnable than in doing anything with them to test their impregnability. We are very certain that, unless something different from the past be done, no shot will ever penetrate their iron-plated sides.

State should insist upon a change in the naval department, unless they wish the pristine glory of our navy to be indellibly sullied. Can here not be something done to arouse or remove that head that dozes in the shock of arms and the ruin of the country?

It will not do to overlook the political ef fect of this disaster. True, the declaration that the blockade had been raised amounts to little if friendly governments were to decide it. blockading fleet for an hour or so does not really raise the blockade, if, after it, the blockade is renewed as vigorously as ever; but have we any cause to expect a favorable or just interpretation from England and France?
If they adopt the views of their consuls we must expect a collision with one or both of them unless we promptly do what should have Leen done long ago-hold, occupy and possess the city of Charleston.

The Efficacy of Prayer-An Elegy. MODERN WAR-ITS THEORY AND PRACTICE BY THOMAS F. BOWIE.

When angry clouds o'ercast the skies, And tempest tossed the billows rise; When flery passions rend the soul, And torments rage without control, One soft and faithful-note of Prayer Will calm and soothe the sorrows there.

When wearied down, with cares oppressed, Our souls are heavily distressed, When fickle Fortune turns to blight Our days of joy to endless night, Oh! then indeed one sigh in Prayer Will soon dispel our every care.

When through life's weary pilgrimage, But sorrows rise at every stage; When Fate's decrees but bid us steer Our paths through deep affliction's tear, The eye of Faith, on wings of Prayer, Will guide us through celestial air.

The world has now few charms for me, The world has now low charms for me oh loved one lost! I sigh for thee! And when I think we soon shall meet, To live again in union sweet, I lay me down in silent Prayer That God may grant a meeting there.

Wr. WICKLIFFE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to put myself in a right position in regard to this matter. I understood last night that there would be opportunities given to offer amend ments to the bill, and to have as free and unrestricted discussion of it. We are now led off on a question which we could have got information about at the War Department, where this bill was manufactured. The Secretary of War has had, if he has not now, a regiment of Africans organized—slaves captured or seduced from South Carolina and Georgia planters. A man—General Hunter—organized a regiment, or attempted to organize a brigade, at Hilton Head.

There were sent there, on this order, from the War Department, fif y thousand French rifles, which cost this Government eighteen dollars apiece; and ten million cartridges, with clothing for fifty thousand negroes. What has become of that experiment? Soon after he armed them, two hundred of them deserted with their rifles. There was no shelter for the gens and armunition and in the way all intended in the work of the deserted with the rifles. There was no shelter for the gens and armunition and the work of the deserted with the rifles. There was no shelter for the gens and armunition and it was all injurade. Mr. WICKLIFFE. The best substitute for coffee is chiccory, attempt that is being inade to organize such an army. Here are the men of fitteen States much used in England, and by many preferred, when mixed, to pure coffee alone.

Chiccory is much grown in Germany. It is a root about the size of the carrot. The seed has more men, more white population by a million and a half, than the whole of the cotresembles that of the parsnip, and is generally resembles that of the parsnip, and is generally sown in drills about eighteen inches apart, in a good, warm, rich soil. Cultivate, harvest and save the same as carrots.

What have we heard in this Hall since this bill has been reported? The gentleman from Pennsylvania, [Mr. Stevens,] who is the lead er of the Abolition party in this description of the cot-specific and who has haved it with the party of the cot-specific and who has naved it with the cot-specific and who has naved it with the project, and who has nursed it with the fondness for a sickly and only child, one for whose fate he cannot but fear, tells us, and in his place proclaims to the South, that we, with a white population in Pennsylvania and New York alone of a million and a half more than there are whites in the whole eleven seceded States of the South, and eight million in the there are whites in the whole eleven seceded States of the South, and eight million in the ifficen States more than the whole white population of the eleven States—that with all this difference this country cannot conquer and suppress this rebellion unless he can employ the negro elave, and put Sambo, or some other man meaner than Sambo, in command. Great God! is that so? Are you, gentlemen, upon the other side of the House, prepared to indorse the statement of the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, and proclaim to the world that our States, with all their resources of population and physical power, with such resources of means for carrying on the war, with a million soldiers now in the field, still find it necessary at this time to blacken our record for the first time by adopting into the army of the United States the Atrican slave, and making him the equal and associate, by legislation, of the gallant addier who may have distinguished himself in many a hard-fought battle; and that a Captain Sambe and Captain white somebody and Colonel Sambo and Colonel white somebody must stand side by side, day after day, on terms of perfect equality?

I saw, some time ago, a correspondence between Gen. Butler and another New Orleans General, by the mame of Phelps, upon this subject.
Phelps was for employing the negro, and inan excitement was created there recently by the arrest of six or seven of the baggagemen, I saw, some time ago, a correspondence between Gen. Butler and another NewOrleans-General, by the name of Phelps, upon this subject. Phelps was for employing the negro, and incorporating him in the Army. Buller was against it. They made up a case—a military case—and sent it to Washington, for adjudication by the military authorities, whether by the Commander in Chief or the Secretary of War, I do not know. Butler was then against employing the black man in this service. Since that time he has changed his policy, as I am informed by the newspaper writers, and I am compelled to rely upon such authority, inasmuch as I caunot obtain the passage of a resolution calling for information apon the subject, except by the permission of the other side of the House. I should like very much to know what General Hunter has done with that brigade of contrabands or runeway slayes, at Port Royal, South Carolina, which he called the first Carolina regiment of yolunteers. I fear Kentucky is to suffer by the organization of this negro force. An Abolitionist is to be placed in command of that State. I understand that he has been already sent there—sent there against the pledge of a year ago, that he should not be. These negro regiments, I fear, will be instruments in his hands and the hands of bad men under him, to annoy and disturb the peace of the State. They will thieve and devastate the country while doing nominal military duty. Can it be possible that the Government of the United States, that the Congress of the United States, that the Congress of the United States, it at the Congress of the United States, that the Congress of the United States, that the congress of the United States, it at the congress of the United States, it go to the south, that you admit that with our white south, that you cannot conquer this rebellion without employing the African negro as a soldier to go iato that country, not so much for a restoration of the Union, as to go to the plantations of peaceable and quiet people, who, perhaps, were against the rebellion, stir up these negroes to rebellion, rob these quiet, peaceful, happy homes, and put the torch of

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's remarks are not perthent to the bill under consideration, and are therefore not in order.

Mr WICKLIFFE, I want to show that this employment and command of negro soldiers has demoralized General Butler, and that it is dangerous to the Government to employ negroes as soldiers. He has been fearfully demoralized, I apprehend, by this negro brigade at New Orleans. [Laughter.] I know that it is unpleasant, but let us look what are the dangers from the measure proposed.

Mr. SHELLABARGER. Let me saya word. Mr. WICKLIFFE. I am not half done. [Laughter.] If that sword is to be given to any officer of the United States—a sword which Twiggs has disgraced by his treason—I do not know who can better be selected than Mr. Butler, for what he has done at New Orleans. It is a dishonored sword: let it go to him. I do not a remark. It is early not carried on the process taken possession of, thely lands constant of the process taken possession of the process taken possession of the process taken possession of the process. As I said last night such was the object of the measure of confiscent in any the object of the measure of confiscent in any the procedem. In addition to that, this southern population is to be exterminated and a new population is to be exterminated until the process and a new population is to be carried out, the honest widow and the honest eld man at home, who have given to the only Government which gives them protection their allegiance for the time being, and who may be as good Union people as any that ever lived, have to go overboard, and their negroes made free and put mader the direction of a Government agent, as they were at Hilton Head, for the purpose of this war. They want an insurrection among the negroes. As I said last night. Twiggs has disgraced by his treason—I do not know who can better be selected than Mr. Buthey were at Hilton Head, for the purpose of carrying on plantations for the supply of the carrying on plantations for the supply of the army. It never can be done.

Perhaps in what I have said I may have been led by my feelings to use expressions I ought not to have used, and which may be considered harsh. I have no desire to give offense to any man, but I cannot but speak warmly when I hear of the action of public officers in speculating in cotton and sugar, and

We then the other strong stationed at the party policy. We have been strong that the strong strong stationed at the party policy. We have strongly the employment of the strong st I quite agree with Sir C. Wood, that the question is one of price, and that if, for instance, America were sunk under the ocean, and the price of Indian cotton in consequence people are going to cultivate the public lands in Fiorida? Who believes this talsehood, this miserable humbug? There is no use of sending to the swamps and everglades of Billy Bowlegs, which require more to drain them than they are worth. All the public lands fit for cultivation have been taken up. I know it, I had a land warrant which I gave to a little graudson, who bears my name. He requested his father to locate it for him. He could not find fitly acres in Florida owned by the Government fit for cultivation, subject to location or entry. Mr. Thayer is going there at the public expense. He has got five thousand Germans already engaged in St. Louis. I do not know where he is to get the others from. They are to be carried there and protected there by his Sambo brigade. They are to go there as armed settlers, if the purposes be to settle on public lands. I can assure them there is not as much public land in the State of Florida fit for cultivation as would make a good, fair-sized plantation. The only public lands of the United States there, are those great everglades of the Indian Rilly Bowlegs, occupied so long in defiance of the power of the United States. These public lands mean the hands of the Government in the end is also a leading motive.

gathered one evening last week to see her united in marriage to a young man from Syracuse. He did not make his appearance, and late the same evening the scamp sent a paper to the family announcing his marriage to another lady.

—General Burnside was in New York on Friday. By invitation, he visited some of the schools and delivered several very near addresses to the scholars, in one of which he declared his determination, after attending to some of his private affairs, to return at once to active service in the field.

His name, and that of his comrade, the gallant Rosegarten, with those of the other brave soldiers of the Anderson Troop who fell by their side on the 29th of December, deserve to be written high upon the temple of fame, and though we mourn their loss and with sad regret reflect that they will ride no more with us upon the battle-field, yet there is pride and consolation in the knowledge that none during this sad war have fallen in a scene of more heroic daring than where these gallant young soldiers went down.

Their plea that they were enlisted as a Body Guard, and to do special duty about head-quarters, only tends to make the accusation joyed by officers and soldiers.

Of those nearly three hundred who followed was drst in Boston, some one sneeringly said to him that his congregation was mostly composed of servants. "Very well," replied the Doctor, "that's all right. They have the education of the children."

In conclusion, I would state that Gen. Rose-crans had never had any other idea than that of putting them on special service. He has committed that intention in writing to high hartly, knowing, as we all know here, that no regiment new the time they arrived at Nashville hen; but at ily engaged p eparing for the enemy.

It is stated that previous to the retirement of the late Captain General (Serrano) of Cuba several slaveholders requested him to present to the Queen of Spain some suggestions with regard to a project for the gradual emancipation of slaves on the island. Serrano refused to present their petition.

The following extract from a private letter, received by a Spanish gentleman residing in this city, was published in the Delta:

Serrano opposed the representation to her majesty's government; but reports from individuals have gone privately to Madrid, and it is believed that we shall soon have some disposition made of the question on the plan proposed, emanaling directly from the governposition made of the question on the plan pro-posed, emanating directly from the govern-ment of her Majesty. It is said that the first step will be to give freedom to the source of slavery by declaring the mothers or females free—(in Spanish dar libre el vientre—literally give freedom to the womb); freeing the moth-er, but excluding the father. Following this greater changes will probably be made, having in view a heavier pressure for the extinction of the institution."

HEADQUARTERS FIRST DIVISION ARMY OF

We arrived at this camp on Monday night last, and found the river impassable. The recent snow had gone off with a rain, raising the stream very fast, and the whole army was hurrying by toreed marches to cross the river before it rose, as it was so low as to be fordable; but, with all our haste, we were too slow. Colonel Weer, commanding the division, ordered Captain Stockton to cross his battery "as soon as possible." The Captain asked "Where are the boats?" Col. Weer, determined to beat Generals Schofield and Herson, who marched upon two other road; replied: "Make them, sir, the quick st way possible!" Captain Stockton took two wagonbeds of his mule wagons, and covered them with tarpaulins, and making a cable out of prolongs, was crossing his cattery within two

JOB PRINTING.

The JOB DEPARTMENT in the Democrat now ready for all kinds of printprinted at the shortest possible notice, and at prices to suit the times.

OLD PAPERS.-We have a large lot of old papers on hand, which we will sell at four dollars per thousand.

MORGAN'S RAID .- As we stated yesterday, the report that John Morgan or any of his gang had molested the Louisville and Nashville railroad is false. In fact, he has not been seen or heard of at any point on or near throad. Some sconndar, work a rail up and the arcow-gap," which has since been repaired, and the road put in running order again. We have sufficient reas on to believe that none of them are on this side of the Cumberland river, and not likely to be soon, as the river is rising fast.

The reports that the eastern part of the State has been invaded by Morgan and his men is also without foundation. A lot of about five hundred men crossed the Cumberland a few days ago, but they discovered that the river was rising too fast for them, and recrossed it again, which now seems an impossibility for them to make an attempt to enter Kentucky during its present stage. There is no cause for any excitement at all in regard to Morgan's raid, for there is no danger of John Morgan ever doing anything in this State while Basil Duke is laid up. John knows it can't be done without him.

FOUND ON THE CARS .- A gentleman on the cars, in the passenger train from Nashville. last evening, found an envelope containing some papers of value to Mrs. Foster, wife of Capt. Føster, of the Fifteenth Indiana infantry, now deceased, lost by her, most likely, on the train. The papers are left at the Democrat, and will be returned to her if she will call at the office.

We learn that the Indian who did the cutting and shooting in an affray up town a Nashville, Tennessee, February 1, 1863: few days since, and which resulted in the death of young Shea, has been killed by some person or persons unknown. He belonged to a Missouri regiment, and not Kentucky, as we

A BLOODY TRAGEDY .- We made mention of difficulty in our yesterday's issue, which took place in Jeffersonville Friday afternoon. It is worse than we represented. It appears that Mike Allen and a young man named Bloom got into a difficulty in a coffeehouse, during which Allen drew a knife and inflicted a serious wound in the breast of Bloom, who was accompanied by a friend of his named Jenkins, but who had not, as yet, interfered in the affair. Bloom, accompanied by Jenkins, went to a doctor, who examined the wound. Jenkins asked the doctor"if he thought his friendwould live." The doctor replied, "I think he will never recover." Whereupon Jenkins returned to the coffeehouse, where he found Allen and shot him through the head, which killed him almost instantly. The affair did not end here. Jenkins immediately ran up the wharf with the intention of making his escape in a skiff to this side of the river, but he was so closely pursued that the oars in the skiff in which he had jumped were wrested away from him, and he rushed away from them, jumping into a non B.B. closes at 12:00 at night, and arrives at pile of drift-wood, holding fast to a limb of a wn B.B. closes at 2:00 P. The body of Jenkins was recovered yesterday t night, the way mails close at 9:00 P. M.

The body of Allen has been interred. The body of Allen has been interred. Mr. J. T. Milam arrived from St. Louis this morning with the remains of his brother, Sergeant Wm. H. Milam, of the Twentysecond Kentucky Regiment. He was in the established on the South side of Green street, bloody fight at Vicksburg, and on reaching Kansas Post he was taken sick and transferred between Third and Fourth streets, in the build- to the hospital in St. Louis, where he died. His remains will be taken up on the train, Monday, to the family burying-ground, near Milam's Station, five miles this side of Frankfort. Mr. Milam was about thirty-three years of age, and has been in the service about sixteen months,

THE ALLEGHANIANS. -Our readers will remember that the world-renowned family of bell-ringers and vocalists will give two of their delightful concerts in this city-the first one to-morrow night, Independent of the attrac tion in their musical bells, we learn that they are all vocalists of a high order of talent; that their attainments are very great, and the songs they sing are everywhere received with exceeding great favor. They are especially excellent in the production of quartets. We advise all who would enjoy an evening to attend to-morrow night, confident that they will be delighted. Let Masonic Temple be

THEATER-MR. AND MRS. WALLER .- Mr. Dawson's benefit last night, was a complete success. We have seldom seen so large an audience on any previous occasion. Mr. W. H. Fuller's skating feat was the most perfect we have ever seen, and elicted peals of applause. To-morrow night, Mr. and Mrs. Waller make their appearance in Shakspear's sublime tragedy of "Macbeth." Mr. Fuller will appear in his skating scene, which is unequalled. An overture by the Orchestra; and the "Maid with the Milking Pail," concludes the DELINQUENT TAX-PAYERS .- We direct the attention of those who are in arrears for city taxes, to the notice in this morning's paper Bills, Circulars, Cards, Posters, &c., signed by the collectors of the Eastern and Western Districts. They require immediate payment, or they will be compelled to adverpay taxes due. They have no alternative, and property holders should pay up at once.

The Nashville train reached the depot on time last evening. Everything quiet along the line of the road. The break in the road was a trifling affair, committed doubtless, by secesh residing in that locality.

It is a false alarm about Morgan being al ready this side of the Cumberland. He is below somewhere, but doubtless getting ready for another raid. We guess he will find it an uphill business next time.

The agent for the house of Messrs. Jos. Burnett & Co., reached our city yesterday. Joseph Burnett and Co. is an old-established firm, famous for many standard preparations. extracts, &c., familiar to the public. At this time, when many foreign preparations at the present high rates of exchange are excluded, it is pleasant to know that Burnett & Co. can supply them at home.

We invite the attention of our readers nore particularly our country friends, to the advertisement of Mr. J. D. Bondurant in an other column. Mr. Bondurant has in store one of the finest stock of seeds and agricultural implements to be found in the city. Mr. W. B. Wilson having retired from the business Mr. Bondurant will continue the same at his old stand.

CAANGE OF TIME.-We learn from the popt lar agent, Charlie Atwood, Esq , that the Jeffersonville Railroad have altered the time of departure on the afternoon train from 2:30 to 2 o'clock P. M. All the other trains will leave as heretofore, making close connections East via Bellefontaine line-a quick and pleasant one to travel.

Another of the fathers gone to his rest. The subject of this notice was born in Cardiganshire Wales. He immigrated to this country in the year 1800, and has since been a resident of this country. In the orovidence of God he was spared to survive sail his relations on this side of the ocean, and except his own immediate of spring, he had no kindred nearer than 14. Cambrian home. He was a type of the strong and vicorous manhood of the last century. In the crosceution of his enterprise, to an untiring industry he added an indomitable of the last century. In the prosecution of his enterprise, to an untiring industry he added an indomitable of the last century. In the safections, true in his friend-hip the very soul of a fault cas and loty integrity, the literal personification of an homest man, his death is a public calamity. To the attractions of a useful citizen, he added the better graces of the Christian life. For many years a memoer of the Methodist Church, his peaceful death is an eloquent comment on his guilcless ife. Caimy "he set his house in order," and without a single regret, save for the grief of his stricken children, he laid he honored head upon hipillow and slept with his fathers. With the sheld of the Omnipotent above him, and the "red and the staff" in his withered hunds, he ent-red the "Valley of the Shadow of Death," and he rests from his labors.

He warfare accomplished, he is victor in the last dread strife, and like a ripened sheaf, full of years and honors, he is garnered to his God, and "the weary wheels of life stand at li!" "After life's fittal fever he sl-eps well," and "his works do rollow him."

Gray, a page in the House of Representatives, was ordered out of the room by a young man of the name of Dudley, who even threatened to lay violent hands on Frank, but for potent reasons did not." I suppose he alludes to myself. I did not order the young stripling out, but politely requested him to leave, being requested so to do by sevaral gentlemen present. Why did not "No. 40" tell us the whole truth? What are the "potent reasons?" Here they are. Youg Gray, vainly imagining that he would frighten me, replied "that he would inform the military authorities on the next day—have me arrested and shipped to Camp Chase, Ohio. As for the statement that my father is a secessionist, it is false.

Cure for Dyspepsia,

Ms. Editon: I feel it due to those who are suffering for it (Mr. Conklin No. 1), who he supposed had lived on a line of railroad which had, dur-

ed by Illinois on that work.

Mr. T. A. CONKLING explained that the report of the Committee of Naval Affairs which had been attacked was made pursuant to instructions from the House, to inquire as to the naval and military aspect of the work. In the examination before the committee no commercial rivalries were represented. He had made up his mind to vote against any measure which would cause to deviate either measure which would cause to deviate either the money or the credit of the Government from what he was convisced should be their exclusive empl-yment—the crushing out by force of arms of this atrocious rebellion. Threats had been made against him in the city of New York and here because of his opposition to the bill. The influence of the press had been brought to the support of the measure in a manner almost upwaralof the measure in a manner almost unparal leled. The lobbies of the House were filled with paid advocates, in violation of the rules with paid advocates, in violation of the rules; and this bill had been brought here in a fradulent manner, irregularly and unauthorized by the Naval Committee.

Mr. OLIN, interrupting, said the statement was false in length and breadth, and he would meet the question either here or elsewhere. He pronounced the statement an unqualified lalsehood. [Sensation.]

Mr. McPilerson claimed the right to make a persanal explanation. As a member of the a personal explanation. As a member of the Military Committee, he was not willing to rest under the imputation that the reporting of the bill was unauthorized. The committee gave its consent to support the bill as a pirsonal layor, fire members thereof (a majority) being opposed to the measure in every phase. NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

Wars, national resources, political contests discussed-this letter is of the " Mysteries of For Cincinnati-The General Buell is the mail- New York." In the ear, steamboat, saloon, coat at noon to-day, and the Major Anderson is the parlor, at dinner, in the street, everywhere do I hear some story with relation to or an inquiry as to the meaning of those mythical words, posted, printed, and advertised wher-8, T.-1860,-X.

accompanied with a croscent and a shepherd's a companied with a crescent and a shepherd's hook. A secession sympathizer said it was:

The presence of so much snow on the wharf was a considerable hindrance to business yesterday. The Major Anderson arrived on time from Louis-yille, and the Boston from hig Sandy. The Henry Pitzhugh came up flom Memphis with an inconsiderable amount of freight on board, the largest item being 37 bales of cotton. The J. B. Ford also came up from Memphis, flying light. She looks a little the worse for her trip, having lost part of one of her chimneys, a mishap which occurred to her in her trip up the White river. The Armenia came up from St. Louis with a first-rate trip for Pitzburg, for which place she left in the evening.

Captain Lodwick's new sidewheel steamer, the Sultana, dropped down to her wharf last evening and menced receiving freight. The Vienna is loading or Cairo, with the intention of leaving this evening. He read the advertisements, and of course bought a bottle of Plantation Bitters; the Bitters cured him, and on the bottle appeared those same cabalistic letters: S. T.-1860.-X. I traveled straight for 202 Broadway, introduced myself to the celebrated Dr. Drake, and The river we desing pretty fast, with about eight feet and a half ware on the shoals. The prospects for a booming rise are "eminently flattering."

dues myself to the celebrated Dr. Drake, and was shown the elephant—tusks, S. T. and fall—and a great institution it is. A six-story building in Dey-Street, from cellar to garret, is occupied as a labratory for producing this single medicine. Some forty persons are employed; several vats, holding six thouemployed; several vats, holding six thousand gallons each, are filled with roots, sand gallons each, are filled with roots, herbs and gallons each, are filled with roots, herbs and material, and then soaked for the whole boat. Cheap enough, at the present price of steambout stock.

Captain Mark Anthony has retired in a the Huntress and she will hereafter be command it by that popular officer Captain Roberts. and bales of Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, and other material-and the original St. Croix Rum puncheons bearing the Customhouse brand. It seemed that medicine could here be turned out to supply a world of invalids-yet these gentlemen are unable to fill their orders for Plantation Bitters alone. I was shown many certificates of extraordinary cures effected by these Bitters. The statistics of the medicine business as presented to the last Congress in the report of Mr. D. S. Barnes, are enormous and startling, amounting to some six million dollars annually. The proprietors of these Bitters will pay Uncle Sam near tifty thousand dollars for stamps this year! With such individual resources, Government leans ought t stand at par, and Jefferson Davis might as well pack up and start for Jerusalem. * * * *

We are happy to reproduce the above letter and add that any ordinary case of Dyspepsia-Liver Complaint, Nervous Affection, Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Nervous Headache, Diarrhea, Sieking Weakness, Mental Despondency, &c., can be cured by the Plan tation Bitters.

That all persons may judge of its efficacy we publish a list of some of the articles used in its preparation:

CALISAYA BARK-Celebrated for over 200 years in the treatment of Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Weakness, &c. It was introduced into Europe by the Countess, wife of the Viceroy of Peru, in 1640, and was afterwards sold by the Jesuits for the enormous price of its own weight in silver, under the name of Jesuit's Powders, and finally made public by Louis XVI, King of France. HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. The House resumed the consideration of the Illinois and New York Ship Canal bill.

Mr. KELLOGG thought discussion would not change the vote: but he wished to show that, as early as 1787, the question was agitated of connecting the waters of the Gulfs of St. Lawrence and Mexico.

SENATE. A communication was received from the Secretary of the Interior asking an increased appropriation for land offices in Kansas.

The House bill to promote the efficiency of the Commissary Department was passed.

[Special to the Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. There were two circles of blockading ships CHOICE LANDS AND HORSES There were two circles of blockading ships off Charleston harber. The outer one in deep water was seven miles from Sumpter; the inner one was upon the bar. The sailors in the navy department are certain that the rebel iron-clads went down only to the latter. They were calculated for deep and rough water beyond, and it is declared that they did not near or menace the second and outer line of large blockaders. General Rufus King was appointed Military Governor of Norfolk, vice General Vielle, who will be transferred to a more active command.

[Special to N. Y. Times.] The House Committee on Ways and Means had informally under consideration to day the Sonate's amendments to the finance bill. The Committee accept them all except the reduc-tion of the issue of legal tender notes. They will insist upon three hundred million, but will allow the Secretary to judge of the necessity of their issue.

The Senate Finance Committee and Secre tary Chase are in entire accord now relative to the fluance bill, and the views of the House Committee on Ways and Means also are daily aching nearer and nearer to those of the

The Senate Finance Committee and the Committee on Ways and Means will probably agree in recommending a tax of at least one-eighth per cent. on all speculative transactions in gold.

Senator Henderson, of Mo., has just received the following telegram in regard to the Sena-torial contest in that State: Jefferson City, Feb. 5.—Glover and Breckin-ridge withdrawn; Broadhead, 58; Brown, 45;

[Special to the Herald.] The case of General Buell is concluded, and the finding of the Court transmitted to the President.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

By an arrival at Suffolk, from Richmond, we learn that the new Merrimac is now lying between seven and eight miles below Richmond. She is pierced for two guns on each side, and will carry one forward and aft. The vessel is pronounced by many a failure, while others are confident of its success. Two other mond. She is pierced for two guns on each side, and will carry one forward and aft. The vessel is pronounced by many a failure, while others are confident of its success. Two other rion-clads are in process of construction there.

The rebels are throwing up earth "worruks" in every direction for the defense of the rebel Capital.

Advices from Dominica, West Indies, of Jan. 19th, state that the steamer San Jacinto had called there to inquire after the Alabama.

The British war steamer Vesuvius, at Bermuda Jan. 27th, reported that the French army had been defeated in an attack on Puebla, in Mexico, and had lost 3,000 men.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. The World's correspondent with Banks' expedition writes that Farragut's fleet is so diminished that it would be impossible to attack Port Hudson until re enforced.

Advices from Galveston via Havana give Commodore Bell's proclamation to foreign consuls, notifying them, and all other subjects, and all others concerned, that Galveston is liable to be attacked at any day by the United States forces.

Twenty-four hours will be given for the innocent and helpless to withdraw.

The reported defeat of the French in Mexico proves to have been a Mexican rumor. At last advices the French siege train was advancing towards Orizaba, for which point a column was to move to cooperate with columns from Jalapa—both columns to reunite at a point four leagues distant, where a stout resistance was anticipated.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7-5 A. M. CHICAGO, Feb. 7—5 A. M.

A special from Cairo to the Tribune says a Memphis dispatch announces the arrival of the steamer Adeline from Vicksburg.

The ram Queen of the West ran the blockade Monday morning at daylight. One hundred heavy siege gues opened on her as she steamed past. A rebel steamer also opened fire on the Queen, which she replied to and the rebel steamer was crippled. The Queen was under fire three quarters of an hour.

"Coax Him, Boys, Coax Him " Two boys passed my window one bright morning, carrying heavy pieces of furniture. One of them also neld a string which was at-tached to a large dog's head. The dog was

One of them also neld a string which was attached to a large dog's head. The dog was unwilling to trot very rapidly, and, much to the lad's annoyance, would insist upon resting every few steps. The large boy grew impatient, for it was hard work to carry such a heavy load, and at the same time drag the dog. "Kick him, Jim, kick him," said he, and Jim set down his burden and began to kick; but the dog only growled and refused to stir. Then Jim took a stick and began to beat him; but the obstinate fellow only whined and remained perfectly still.

What was to be done? The boys were beginning to desoair, when Frank Gage came along. "Coax him, boys, coax him," was Frank's smally suggestion. Some boys would have pouted, and thought Frank had nothing to say in the matter; but these seemed relieved by the advice, and began to pat "Frim" and speak kindly to him. What was the result? Why "Trim" wagged his tall approvingly and trotted off briskly.

Does not this little incident illustrate the power of kind words? There is a great deal of power and meaning in kind words and actions. A little hymn you all know says, "Kind words can never die." Have you evertried the experiment? There is scarcely a person who cannot be influenced by gentle words and treatment. Be kind to everybody and everything about you, always remembering the text, "Be not overcome with evil, but overcome evil with good."

BY Col. Tom Ford, the hero of Harper's

Ferry, who was condemned to be cashiered by a court-martial, and who ought to have been shot for cowardice, has again been taken into the favor of our amiable President. Ford's just sentence has been reversed and he has been permitted to honorably resign his commission as a Colonel in the volunteer army. The country will not fail to note the difference between this case and that of the hero of Hapover Court House, Gaines's Mills, and Malvern Hill. The shameful leniency in the one case and the still more shameful severity in the other, tell their own story.—[N. Y. World.
